THEFDHA.ORG
The U.S. Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation defines violent crime as murders, rapes, robberies and aggravated assaults. Violence prevention has been a priority among health officials for decades and a number of intervention programs have been established.

WHY THIS MATTERS?

Families, neighborhoods and communities are all affected when violent crime occurs. Violent crimes cause physical harm as well as social and emotional distress including injury, disability, premature death, depression, anxiety and post-traumatic stress disorder. In neighborhoods, violent crime can lead to less physical activity. When personal safety is threatened, individuals are less likely to choose to walk or bike to their destination, regardless of neighborhood income levels.

U.S. STATISTICS

- There were more than 1.2 million acts of violent crime in 2018
- In 2018 there were 16,214 homicides
- Homicide was the third-leading cause of death among those ages 15-34 and the fourth-leading cause of death among children ages 10-14
Total Violent Crime Reported 2018: 1,947

Total Violent Crime Reported 2019: 2,004

GEORGIA STATISTICS

Atlanta saw an uptick in violent crimes in the first six months of 2019 when compared to figures for the first six months of 2018. Reporting is based on information from 14,273 law enforcement agencies that submitted three to six months of data for both 2018 and 2019 to the FBI’s Uniform Crime Reporting Program. The report includes all four of the offenses in the violent crime category — robbery, rape, murder and non-negligent manslaughter, and aggravated assault.

Totals for January-June 2018:
- Murder: 42
- Rape: 128
- Robbery: 557
- Aggravated Assault: 1,220

Totals for January-June 2019:
- Murder: 47
- Rape: 116
- Robbery: 520
- Aggravated Assault: 1,321
Violent crimes place a financial burden on hospitals and health care systems. Costs including violence preparedness, prevention, as well as security and safety within health care facilities was estimated at $2.7 billion in 2016. The overall estimated economic burden of violent crime was $65 billion in lost productivity and $6 billion in direct medical costs in 2007. Researchers estimate the following per-offense total costs: $9 million per homicide, $241,000 per rape/sexual assault, $107,000 per aggravated assault, and $42,000 per robbery (2008 dollars).

WHO IS AFFECTED?

Populations that experience higher rates of violent crime include:

- In 2018, the rate of violent crime victimization was more than two times higher among poor households compared with high-income households.
- The total violent victimization rate was highest among the other race category (includes Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, American Indians and Alaska Natives and persons of two or more races) compared with non-Hispanic whites, non-Hispanic blacks and Hispanic Americans in 2018. The total violent victimization rate does not include homicide. The homicide rate in 2016 was highest among non-Hispanic black males.
- In 2018, adults ages 18-24 had the highest rate of violent victimization. Adults ages 65 and older had the lowest rate.
